Computer Literacy Program for the Underprivileged (2004 -2025)

The Computer Literacy Program for the Underprivileged (CLP) is now in the third decade of its operation. As we are near the end of the first year of the third decade, we are happy to report that the state of the CLP is strong. True to the mission of “Empowering the underprivileged youths in Bangladesh through computer literacy and technology-enhanced education,” CLP is progressing through expanding and continually improvising its core interventions and introducing new initiatives to keep abreast of the rapidly emerging technologies that impact education and workplace. CLP interventions include Computer Literacy Centers (CLCs), Smart Classrooms (SCRs), Education through Entertainment (EE), Connect Students Around the World (CSAW), Remote Voluntary Teaching (RVT), E-Learning Methods (ELM), Expert Guided Learning (EGL), Essential Office Skills (EOS), and Global English Classroom (GEC). The timeline and accomplishments of these interventions are summarized in the first article of this volume.

To highlight some key accomplishments, we note that there are now 314 CLCs in 55 districts and 210 SCRs in 44 districts of Bangladesh including some remote, isolated areas. The CLCs have produced 157,000 graduates and provide 47,000 users access to computers. SCRs enable approximately 100,000 students to receive multi-media, digital learning experience per year. Together these two core programs enabled implementation of other innovative interventions, such as CSAW, RVT, EGL, EOS and GEC. GEC, launched this year, provides a student in rural Bangladesh learn English from a native speaker of the language based in the US, for example, which indeed is a rare opportunity. GEC is rapidly gaining popularity among students. EOS, initiated in 2024, is training the participants in corporate culture, basics of communication skills, time management, customer service mindset, and office etiquette so that they are ready for the workplace on the first day.

What is even more gratifying, the CLP interventions have prepared the ground for the introduction of lessons in Artificial Intelligence (AI), a revolution that is now engulfing different spheres of contemporary life. CLP interventions provide the infrastructure (CLCs, SCRs, computers, remote communication technologies), manpower (trained teachers and graduates), connections (professionals active in AI field at home and abroad) and limited potential support (from diaspora, organizations in Bangladesh and abroad) for. CLP has taken a first step in this direction through the addition of a module on AI in the EOS course. Much more need to be done.

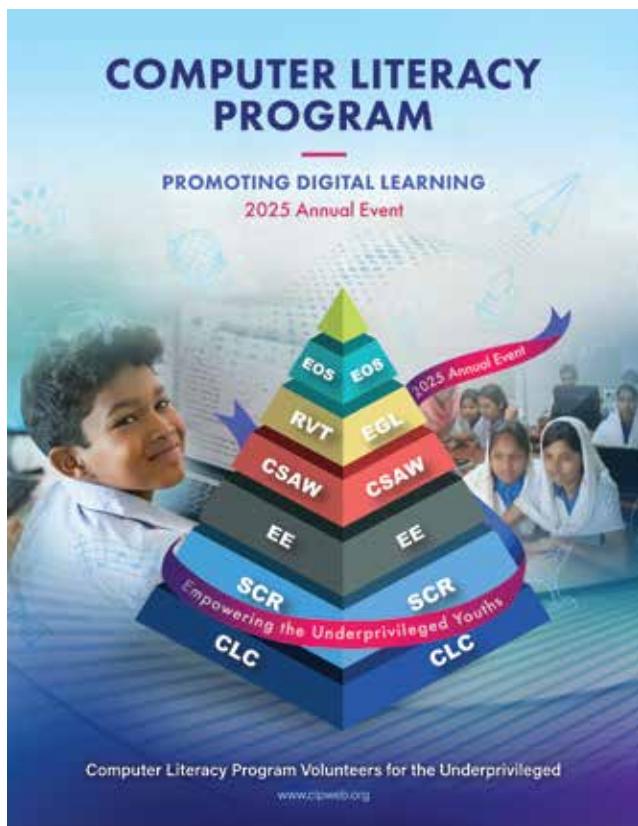

All of these has been possible through the sustained support of our valued donors (primarily the NRBs), sponsors (such as banks, social enterprises, and charitable organizations) in Bangladesh and abroad. We thank you for your support throughout our journey and seek your continued generosity to help us maintain the initiatives that you have helped establish and initiate new interventions as deemed essential.

We dream of a digitally connected, productive and prosperous Bangladesh. Come, dream with us.

From virtual to real, through computers to prosperity, we will empower the underprivileged youths of Bangladesh to enter the realm of hope by crossing the digital divide.

Giving Back to Roots

Motasim Billah

A Dream Land on the Shore

I grew up in Charfasson Upazila under Bhola District of Barisal Division. Bhola District is an island group located in the South-Central Bangladesh (Fig.1). River Meghna is on the north and west sides of the district, River Tetulia is on the east, and the Bay of Bengal is on the south.

Charfasson Upazila is the southernmost part of the Bhola , on the Bay of Bengal. Waterways are the sole mode of transportation to and from Bhola, with ferry and launch services linking cities like Dhaka and Barisal.

Charfasson is a land of stunning beauty (Fig. 2). Lush green trees and vegetation, torrential monsoon rains, rustling rice fields and trickling canals along the road to my school enchanted my 10-year-old heart so much so that I did write poems at that tender age.

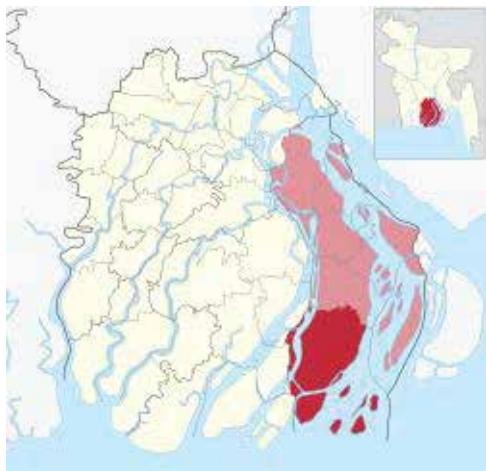

Fig. 1. Bhola (light red) with Charfasson Upazila in dark red (Wikipedia)

Bhola's economy is transforming from agriculture and fishing (Fig. 3) to industrialization, driven by abundant gas reserves (Fig. 4). Key factors like low-cost labor, efficient waterway transport, and the proposed Bhola–Barisal Bridge promise to make it an attractive investment hub poised for substantial economic growth and job creation in Bangladesh's southern region.

My Cross-continent Journey Accentuates Nostalgia for Roots

The first 13 years of my life, the foundational period, were spent in Charfasson nurtured and shaped by not only a beautiful mother and a wise father but also numerous individuals including relatives, neighbors, community members, and teachers. Truly, it does take a village to raise a child. All of us, once children, feel certain nostalgia for and owe a great deal of gratitude to our roots, which we often forget in the hustle and bustle of our hectic life.

My amazing decades-long journey took me from Charfasson through Barisal, Dhaka, England, and finally to the United States where I settled and had a successful career. There is no denying of the fact that all this is rooted in my upbringing in Charfasson and the opportunities Bangladesh has provided. On my last visit 5 years ago, I found the landscape and the people of Charfasson as mesmerizing and welcoming as ever. The children playfully roam over the same grounds as I did with the same dreams as I had, gently whispering for a helping hand, a little give-back, to make those dreams come true. And they do deserve it!

Giving Back to Roots Brings Joy

Since early 1960's when my parents moved me out of Charfasson for better schools, Charfasson has come a long way. In our area, there was only one high school (Grade 6-10) and no colleges (Grade 11-12) in those days, now there are several high schools and colleges. Despite this commendable progress in education in this remote area, not surprisingly, much remains to be done. For those who attend high schools and colleges in this area, the lack of access to modern technology undoubtedly limits their chances of success.

While my family and I have been doing philanthropic work for our relatives and immediate neighbors, my wife and I have recently realized that there remains a significant unmet educational need for high schools and colleges in Charfasson and that this need could be met by technology-aided educational services provided by CLP USA. It was clear to us that the Bangladesh government initiatives, while well-intentioned, were poorly executed and awfully inadequate especially for schools in very poor localities of Charfasson. We also realized that a technology-savvy workforce is essential for Bhola's emerging economy to be driven by newly found gas reserves.

Since its inception in 2004, CLP USA has been working tirelessly to expand technology-aided education for underprivileged youth in Bangladesh by way of establishing Computer Literacy Centers (CLCs), Smart Classrooms (SCRs), Essential Office Skills training course, and Global Classrooms. These initiatives driven by continued innovation are having a positive impact on the educational landscape of hard-to-reach rural communities in Bangladesh. From a donor's perspective, more than 95 cents of every dollar donated to CLP goes right to work (the remaining 5 cents is used for fund-raising) and CLP volunteers here and in Bangladesh serve with exemplary dedication.

Over the past 2 years, my wife and I have sponsored the establishment of seven (7) CLCs, and seven (7) SCR across 3 high schools, 4 colleges, and one (1) madrasa in Charfasson. In addition, in October 2025, the first batch of 16 college graduates in Charfasson completed the newly introduced Essential Office Skills training course. We are delighted, humbled, and overwhelmed by the enthusiastic, heart-warming responses and reactions we received from the students and teachers of Charfasson. It is a wonderful feeling! We wish we had taken this step much earlier!

Impact of Giving Back

Eight (8) institutions (3 high schools, 4 colleges, and 1 madrasa) in Charfasson that are part of the initiative serve 5,822 students—including 2,530 boys and 3,292 girls.

A CLC allows basic computer training (Esho Computer Shiki curriculum).

An SCR enables improved classroom learning and enhanced learning in Math and English as well as connection with teachers from abroad online.

Students learn English from youth volunteers (who are native speakers of the language) in the Global Classroom and basic math concepts in the Expert Guided Learning program.

The Essential Office Skills training course prepares college graduates to find job and excel at work.

In 2024–2025, 486 students completed the Esho Computer Shiki curriculum (230 girls and 256 boys). The year before, in 2023–2024, 129 students graduated (48 girls and 81 boys). This growth reflects not only increased participation and appreciation but also the breaking down of barriers, especially for young women.

Computer Literacy Centers: Opening the Door to Modern Technology

A Computer Literacy Center (CLC) is more than just a room with laptops—it is a gateway to the digital world (Fig. 5). Each center is equipped with four brand-new laptops or desktops, a printer, internet access, and essential peripherals. Teachers are trained to guide students through the structured Esho Computer Shiki curriculum, a 39-hour program covering practical computing and internet use. Just as critical is the technical support to keep these centers running reliably. Over a 2-year period, over 600 students successfully completed Esho Computer Shiki (Fig. 6) curriculum from the CLCs in Charfasson.

“For a rural child, the first click on a computer is the first step toward global connection.”

Smart Classrooms: Technology Meets Teaching

Smart Classrooms bring modern, interactive learning tools to Charfasson. Each room has a 55-inch screen, a laptop, and an uninterrupted power supply, enabling distance learning and subject-based teacher training (Fig. 7). The focus is on Mathematics, Science, English, and Geography—subjects that often define future opportunities. The utility of SCRs is soundly attested by the requests received from students and teachers for additional SCRs.

Fig. 7: An SCR in Charfasson

Building Professional Futures

For many young people in Charfasson, graduating from local colleges has not guaranteed a pathway into the job market. The Essential Office Skills training course, jointly developed by CLP USA and Progress through Innovation (PI), bridges this gap. Covering professional excellence, business communication, ICT skills, English proficiency, and office etiquette, it equips students with the confidence and competence to succeed in professional environments. This course leverages the SCR facilities (Fig. 5). Recently (October 2025), the first batch of 16 graduates from Charfasson colleges successfully completed this course. The goal is not just education, but employability—skills that matter on day one of any job.

Global Classrooms: Opening Windows to the World

Through Smart Classroom facilities (Fig. 7), students now attend online sessions with expert teachers from beyond their locality. Lessons in English are conducted live by volunteer teachers who are native English speakers connecting rural learners with global standards of education. This initiative is perhaps the most symbolic -- students in remote Charfasson, once cut off from the wider world, now learn in real time alongside peers thousands of miles away.

Looking Forward

These initiatives are not only providing tools and lessons but also inspiring confidence and ambition in the young people of Charfasson. Every student who learns to type, present, or communicate in English is advancing the future of their community. CLP's technology-aided education will help develop the workforce needed for the massive industrialization initiative in the Southern region of Bangladesh propelled by the gas reserves found in Bhola.

The CLP project in Charfasson is a novel approach in that it involves 8 institutions in a single geographic location. The close proximity of these institutions offers a unique opportunity for symbiotic cooperation and impact multiplication. We dare dream that Charfasson will be a shining example of how such an approach can transform even the most remote corners of Bangladesh. We are very hopeful that potential donors will consider this approach to maximize the impact of their generosity!!

The CLP USA offers a very impactful way of ‘giving back’ to our roots that nourished us when we needed it the most.

History: Among the many landmarks of New Jersey, Our House Restaurant and Banquet Facility, dates back before the Revolution to 1747. It was operated for many years as the "Marriner's Tavern". Now it has become the restored, renovated "Our House Restaurant and Banquet Facility". Over the years, this Restaurant has been a gathering place for township meetings, dances, weddings and many other happenings. It was a gathering place for many years for a band of outlaws known as the "Fagen Gang". One of the members of that gang, Lewis Fenton was hanged on September 23, 1779 in front of this Restaurant by members of Major Lee's Light Dragoons. Welcome to the long list of the great, near great and the not so great who have dined and drank here at "Our House" for the past two and a half centuries!
